PLATFORM ANALYSIS

Instagram

- Appropriate platform — visuals, shopping, analytics
- ✓ Brand voice is minimalist and clean-girl aesthetic
- Content looks great but lacks interaction — no hooks, no CTAs
- No hashtags, no third-party engagement, no range in CTAs
- Paid advertising active
- Showcases versatility but doesn't address affordability

Facebook

- Appropriate platform — massive user base, strong ad tools
- ✓ Consistent brand voice with Instagram
- Content quality is on-brand but repetitive
- Low engagement signals — no hashtags, no community activity
- Paid advertising on Facebook & Messenger
- Jewelry looks premium but affordability story is missing

COMPETITOR OVERVIEW: LINJER VS. MEJURI

Metric	Linjer	Mejuri
Instagram Followers	323K	1.3M
TikTok Followers	6,010	267.5K
Avg. Engagement	0.6%	2–3%
Posting Frequency	3–4x / week	5–7x / week
Brand Voice	Minimalist, calm, sustainable	Empowering, confident, modern
Content Focus	Product shots, ethics, design	Lifestyle, influencers, storytelling

Takeaway: Mejuri's community-first strategy drives 3–5x higher engagement. Linjer's opportunity lies in storytelling, interaction, and influencer depth.

STRATEGIC IMPLICATIONS

01 Limited Audience Engagement

Linjer's content is visually consistent but lacks interactive elements — no hashtags, no influencers, no trend-driven tactics. This hurts algorithm performance, reduces reach, and limits loyalty-building opportunities.

02 Underdeveloped Brand Narrative

The content showcases minimalist luxury but lacks storytelling and lifestyle context. Unlike Mejuri's community-focused messaging, Linjer's approach risks leaving its message unclear and weakening long-term customer connection.
